WELCOME FROM THE CHIEF EDITOR

The Editorial welcomes all readers to our third issue of International Journal of Integrated Engineering focus on Electrical and Electronic Engineering. Special thanks to all contributing authors for their technical papers. We would also like to express our acknowledgement to our scientific committee for their invaluable comment and suggestion to ensure quality of the paper published in our journal.

To ensure the continuity of the next volume (which will be on December 2013), we look forward to receive scholarly written article from our respected audiences.

All articles could be submitted online through our web-based system at:
